Paperless Barriers

Unnecessary Printing

Many people print out of habit, unaware of digital alternatives.

Digital Tool Unawareness

People may not realize modern tools can replace paper or find them hard to use.

Regulatory Requirements

Some records must be kept in a physical form.

Paper Habits

Many prefer editing with a pen or handling physical documents.

We can't change all of them, but implementing simple digital tools and altering habits can significantly reduce overall paper consumption.

How to Change a Habit

1 Identify the Loop

Every habit follows a Trigger → Behavior → Reward cycle.

2 Change the Routine

Keep the same cue and reward but replace the behavior with a better alternative (e.g., use a digital tool instead of printing).

3 Make It Easy

Reduce friction for the new habit by setting up reminders, automations, or default digital options.

4 Reinforce the Reward

Highlight benefits like saving time and reducing clutter to strengthen the habit change.

What About Rewards?

iScanner

Hey there!

I'm Treeno, your eco-buddy, keeping an eye on those overprinting friends! I'll help you understand your impact on nature when you print less. Every time you export a digital document instead of printing, I calculate your tree-saving impact.

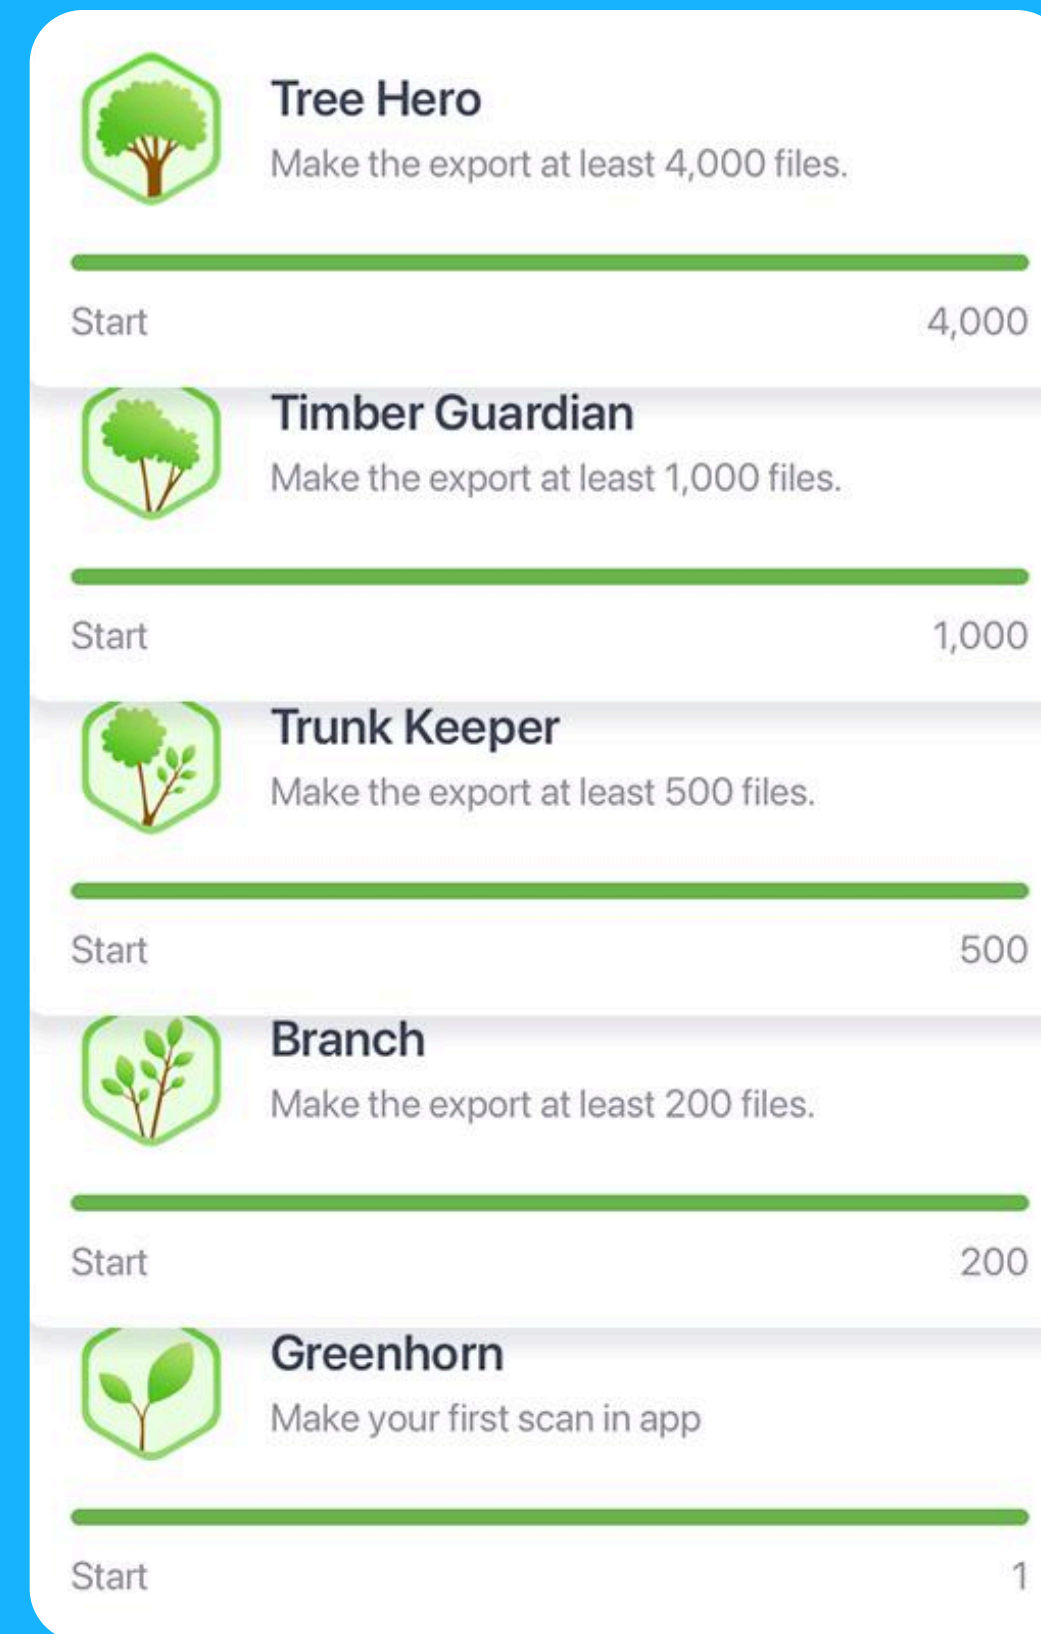

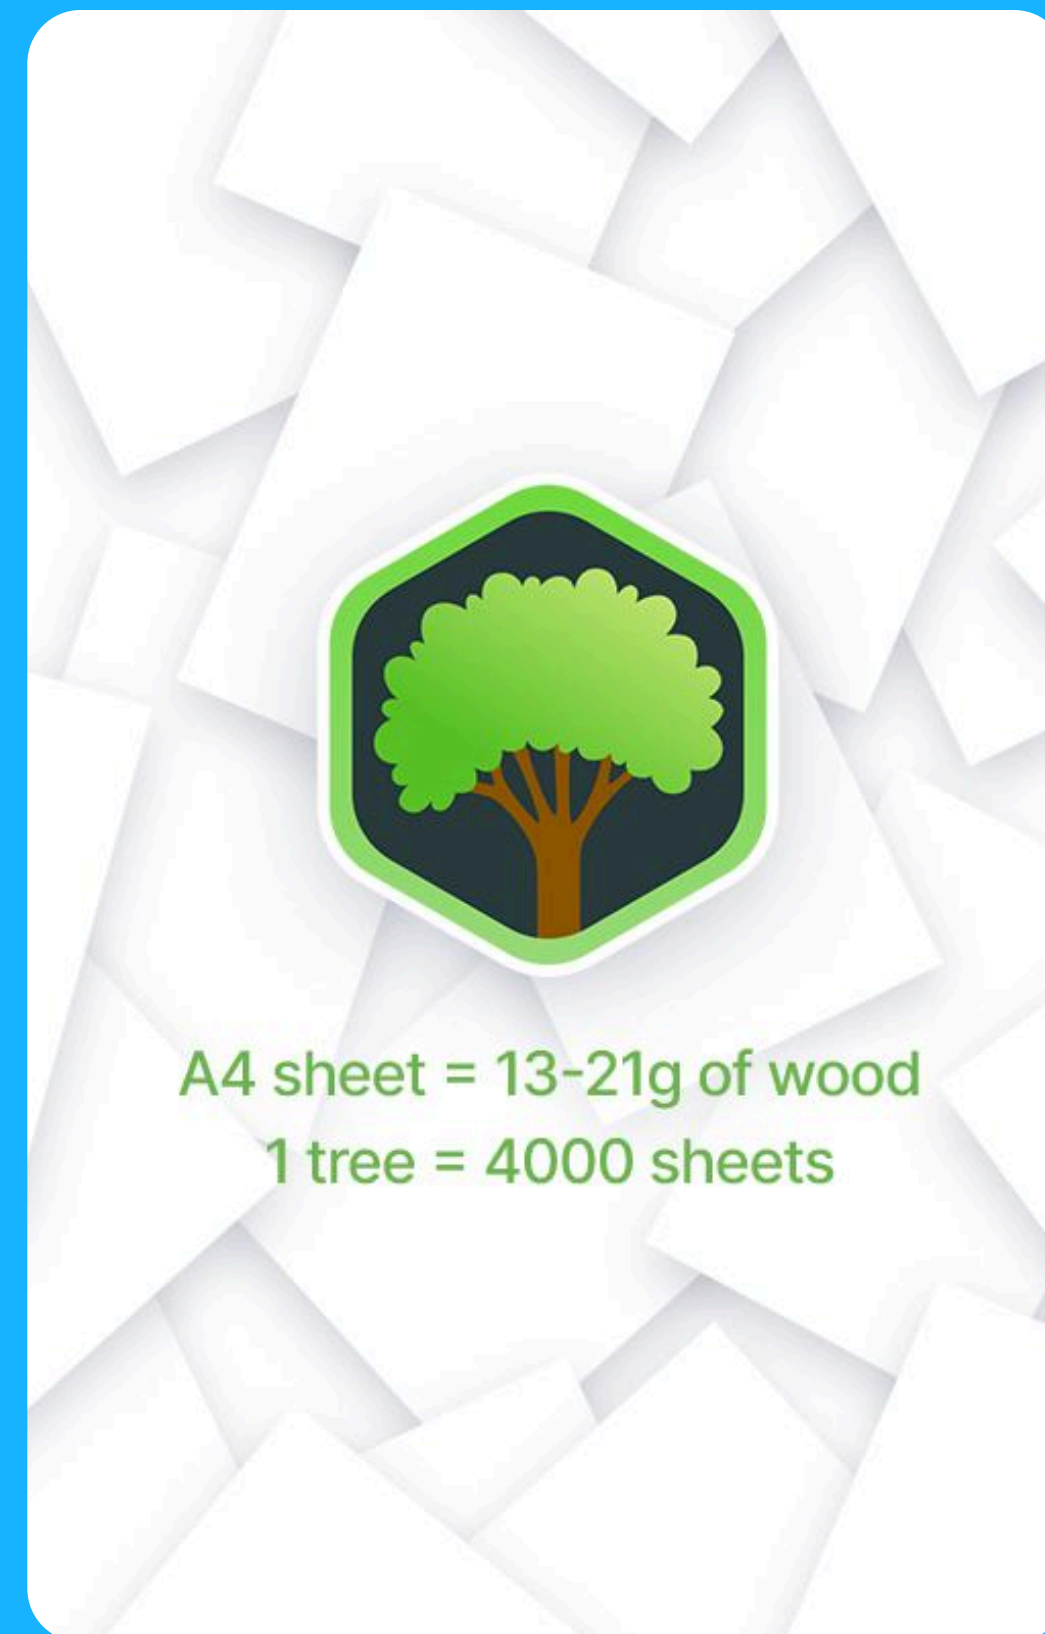

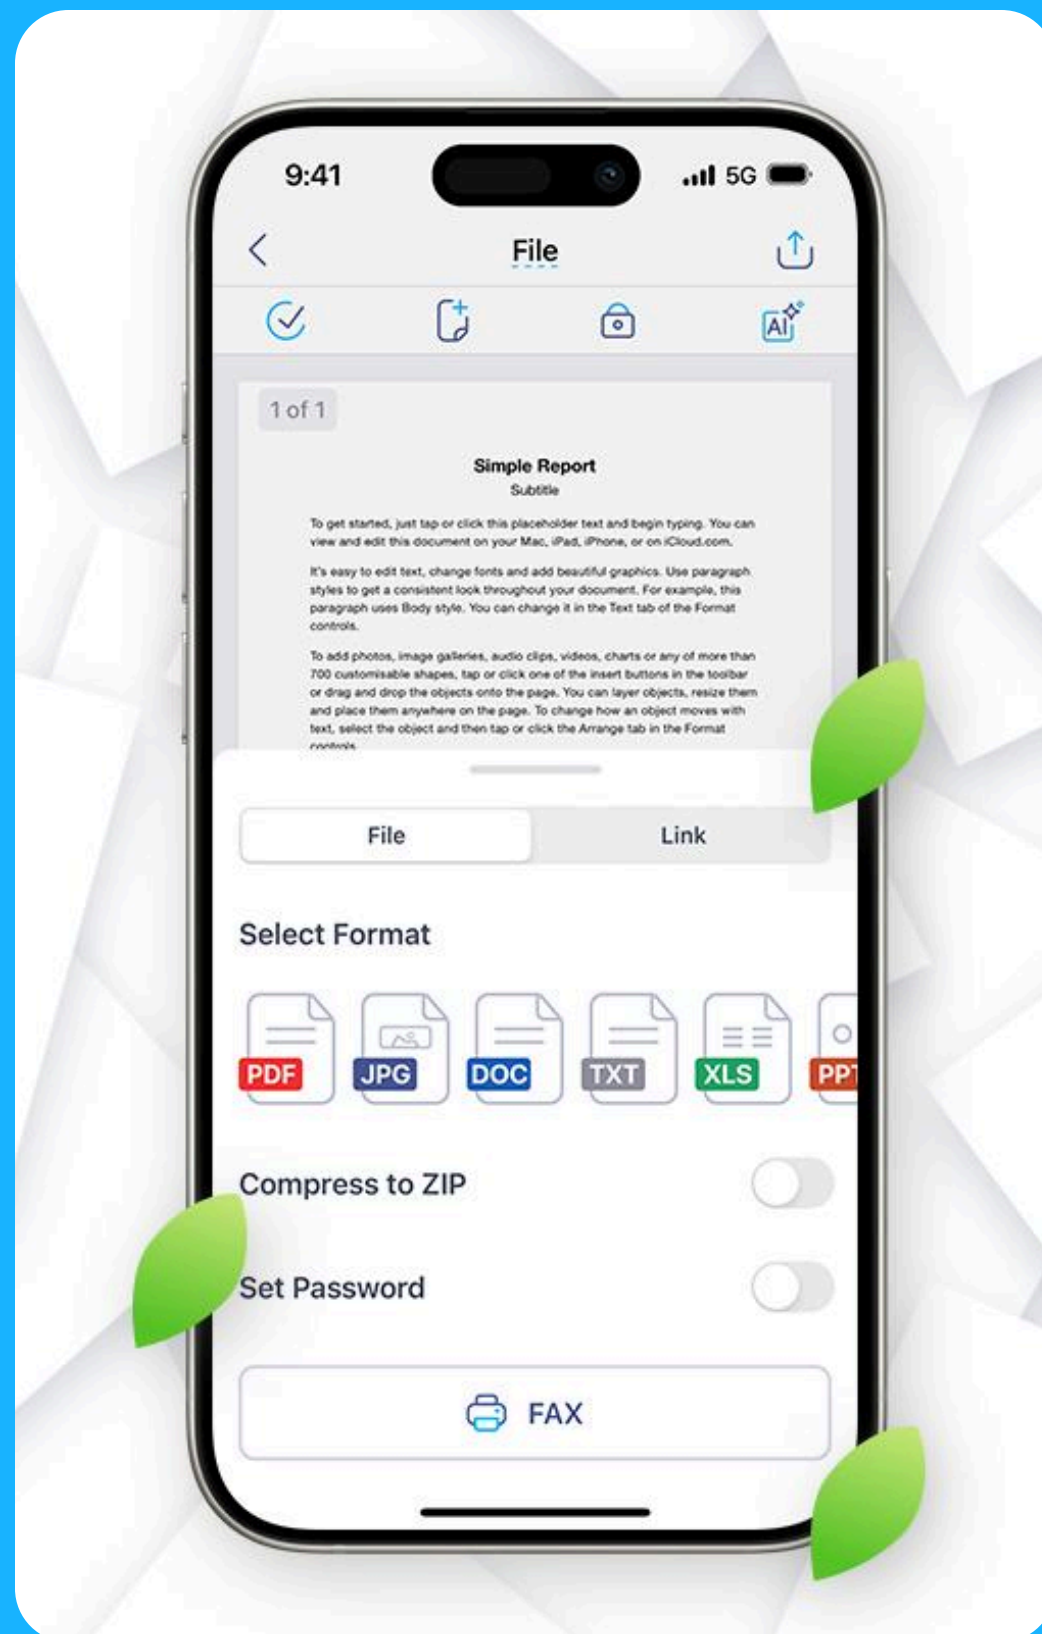

To track your progress, don't forget to create a free iScanner account in the app.

Save Trees, Earn Badges

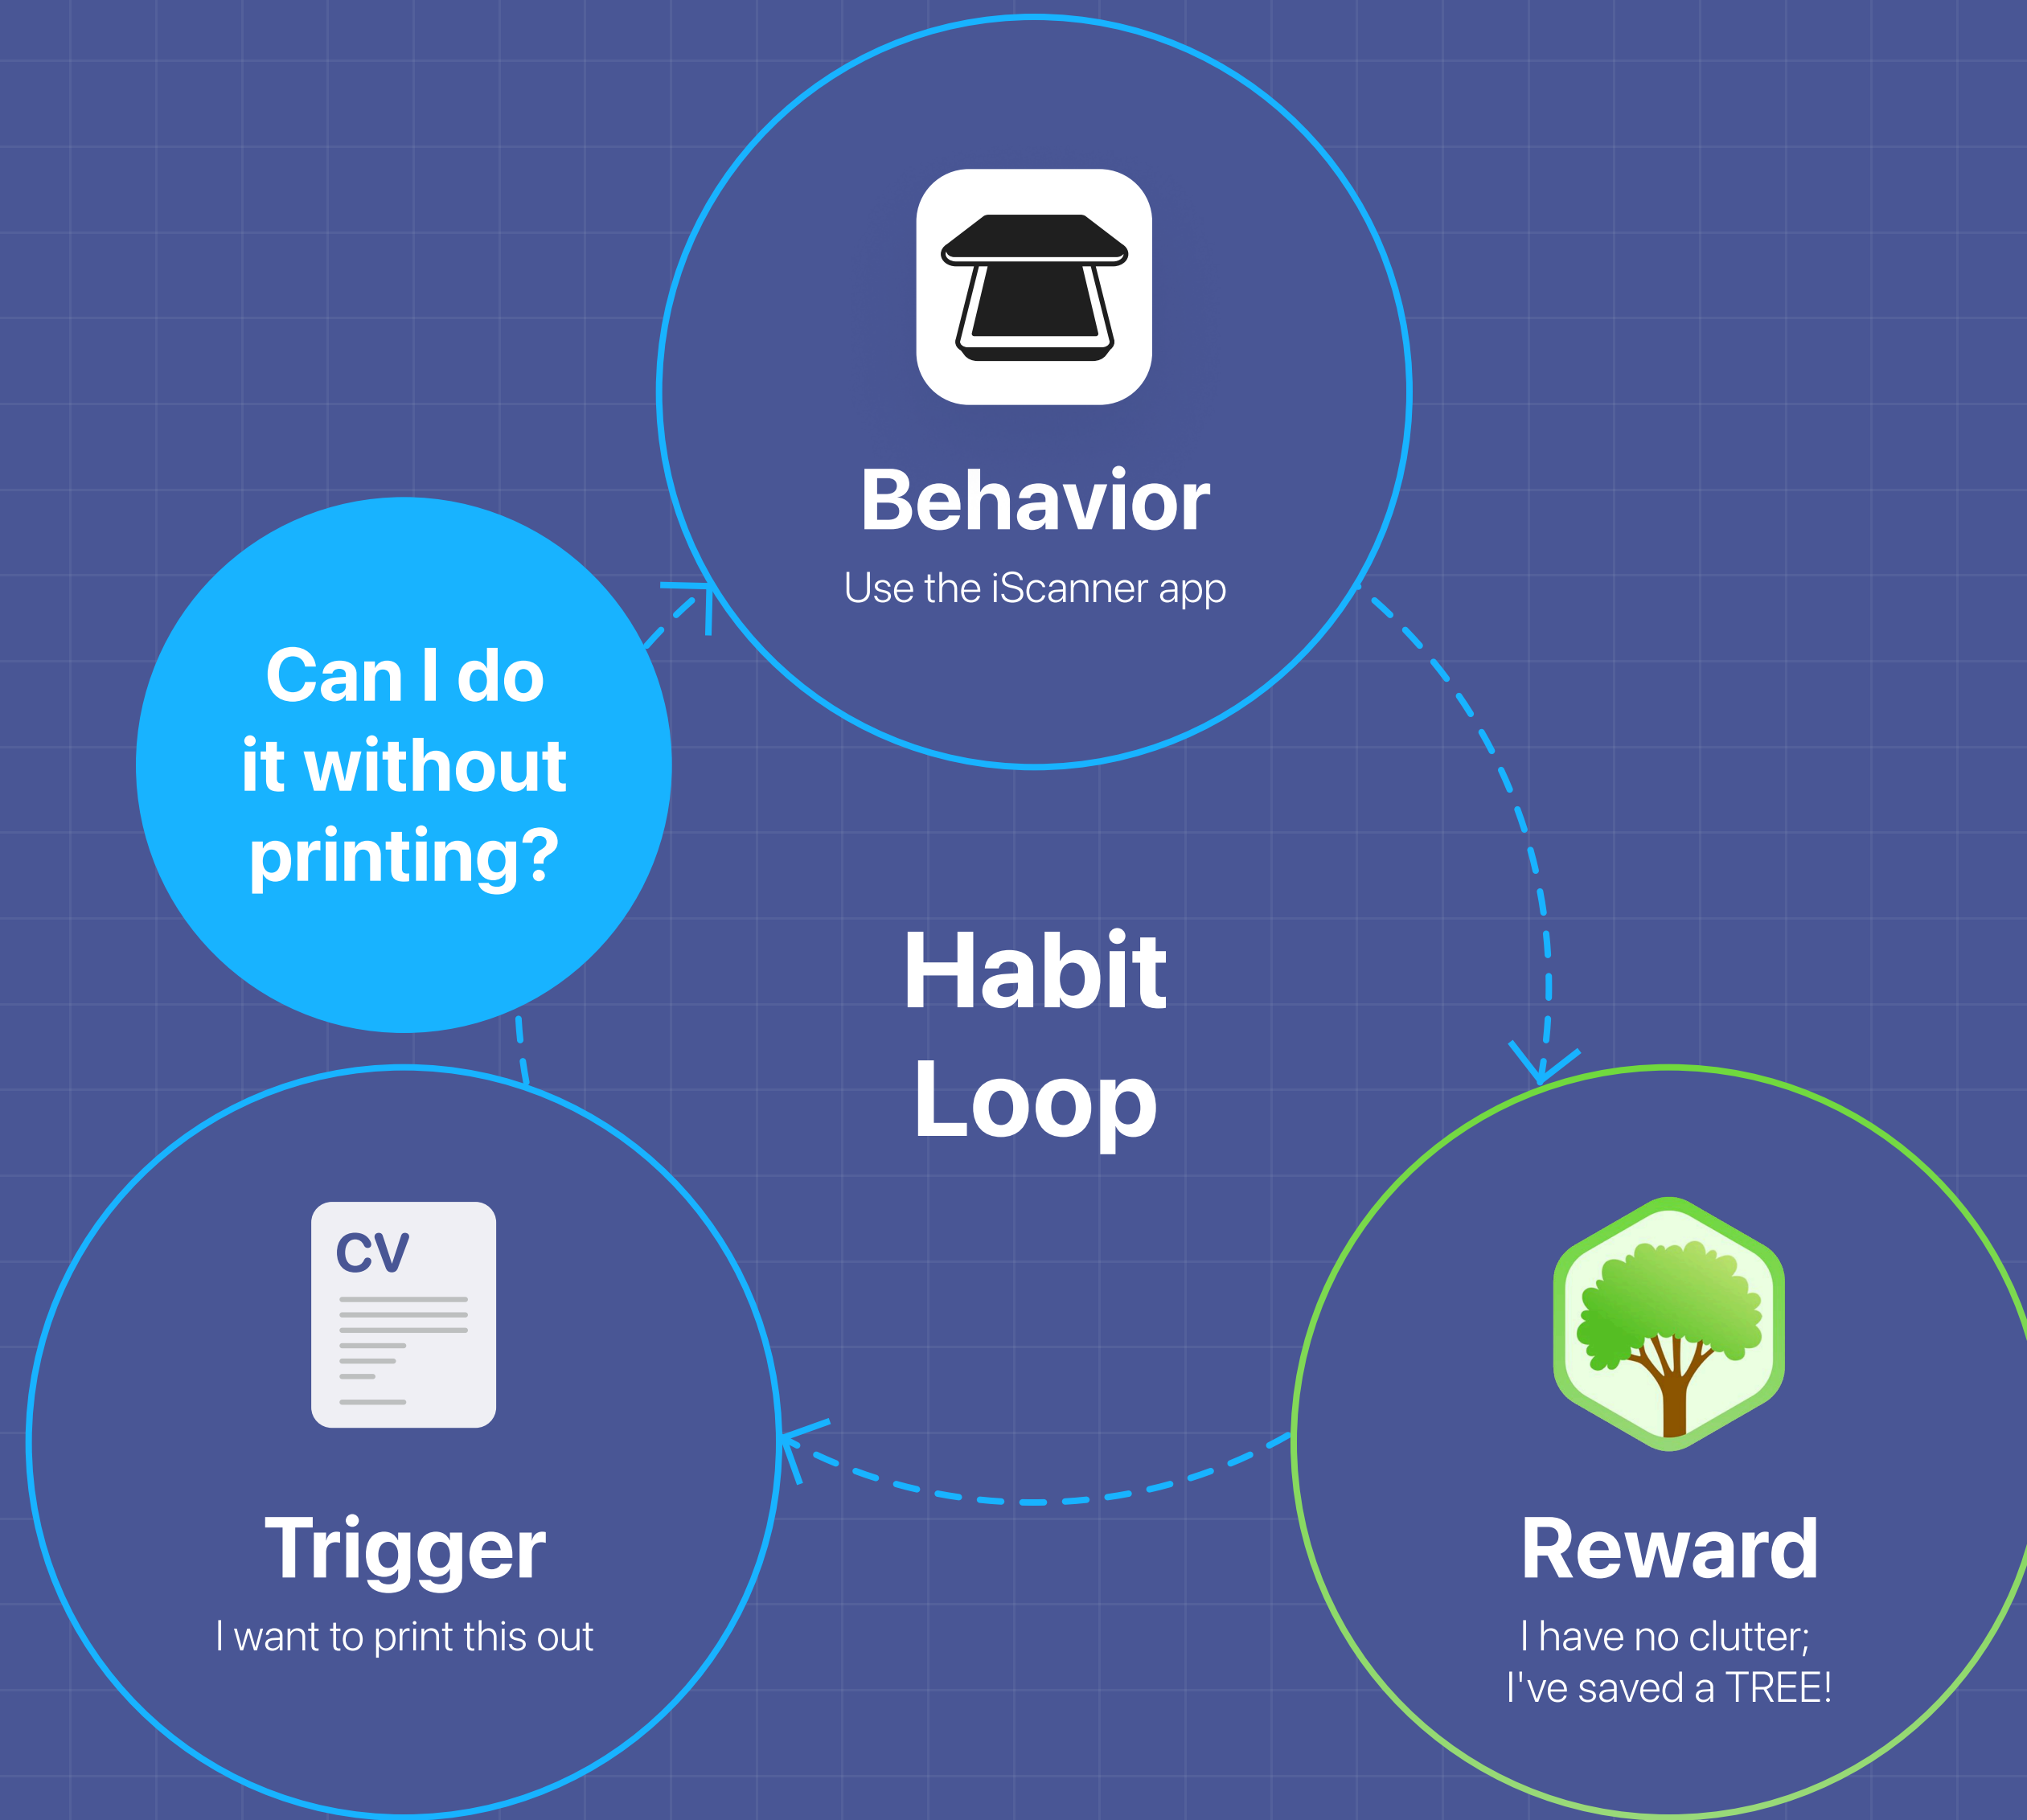

It's simple:
One A4 sheet = 13-21g of wood. A small tree makes 4,000 sheets.
I track your saved sheets and turn them into leaves, twigs, branches—until you've saved a whole young tree!

Share Certificates

You can download or share your earned certificates on social media to showcase your Green Impact!

New Habit Loop

So, How Can I Print Less?

iScanner's free tools:

- eSign digitally
- Annotate PDFs digitally
- Reuse PDFs
- Export PDFs in seconds as files or links

Try mindful printing practices:

- Print on both sides
- Print in color only when needed
- Track your printing to understand your consumption
- Take a moment to recognize the necessity before you print
